SALISBURY RESIGNS.

Of Whom Will the Cabinet Consist?

—Some of the Names Mentioned.

Blake May Receive Some Recognition—John Morley and the Irish Secretaryship.

Difficulties in the Way of the Administration—Irish Issues Most Embarrassing.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The members of the Cabinet met at noon, and formally agreed to resign. At 5 o'clock, this afternoon, Lord Salisbury left on a special train for Portsmouth, whence he will embark for the Isle of Wight. His destination is Osborne House, where he will tender to the Queen his resignation of the Conservative Ministry.

The greatest interest is exhibited in the formation of the new cabinet. It is believed that Sir Charles Russell will elect to be Attorney-General again, and it is now admitted on nearly all sides, although the Telegraph is of a contrary opinion, that Lord Rosebery will take charge of Foreign Affairs. Sir William Vernon Harcourt will probably be Chancellor. It is believed that Hon. Edward Blake will receive some recognition, provided his inclinations and pledges do not stand in the way. Mr. Blake's colonial experience would make his assistance valuable in framing a Home Rule bill, as well as on important questions relating to the colonies. Labor will probably receive some recognition. Mr. Gladstone would doubtless have preferred Mr. Broadhurst, but as that gentleman fell outside the breast-works, a selection will have to be made from some of the other labor members. The Liberal Lord will, of course, be represented, although Mr. Gladstone has lost two valuable associates in Lord Grenville and Lord Dunsford, both members of Mr. Gladstone's last Administration and both now dead. Lord Carrington, Lord Brassey and Lord Houghton are all mentioned in connection with the new cabinet. The Irish members naturally feel the deepest interest in the Irish Chief Secretaryship, for which Mr. John Morley is booked, and the Conservatives and Liberal Unionists do not conceal their satisfaction at contemplating what is in store for Mr. Morley. The Liberal leaders do not hesitate to express the opinion that the Tories are planning to make Mr. Morley's office as uncomfortable as possible, and that there is a deep design in placing a regiment of constabulary in Tipperary at this time. The neighborhood is quiet, and there is neither complaint nor outrage. It is believed that Smith Barry, who has been re-elected to Parliament and is on the closest terms with Mr. Balfour, and other Tory leaders, will soon after Mr. Morley takes office begin enforcing his legal rights in an irritating manner at Tipperary, and call upon the authorities to sustain him. If, with a regiment of police at New Tipperary, Mr. Morley should refuse to sustain the enforcement of the law, then a clamor would be raised that the Liberals were in sympathy with anarchy and hostile to law and order in Ireland. It is expected that at the best Mr. Morley's position will be embarrassing.

The Daily Chronicle (Liberal), says the single effective point Mr. Chamberlain made in his speech, was that Mr. Gladstone will hold office for six months without defining his policy. Had an autumn session been conceded, as advised, Mr. Chamberlain must have cut from his speech all of its most damaging passages. Until the new Ministry meets the House next session, no man dare say it is settled firmly enough to govern the country with authority and vigor. Until Gladstone brings his Home Rule measure forward, it would be idle to ignore the fact that his majority is heterogeneous. The Pall Mall Gazette (Liberal) says: Gladstone's triumph is Parnell's also. Twenty years ago Parnell had not even entered Parliament. Before he died he had converted nine out of every ten Irishmen against revolutionary methods. The effect of the division is irrevocable. Difficulties and delays in Home Rule there may be, but its final adoption is now inevitable. The St. James Gazette (Conservative), under the caption of "Leaping into Darkness" says: The Government was ejected by the majority simply going it blind for "the Grand Old Man," and a half understood idea. If disaster result—increased taxation, malignant bickerings with France, a disgraceful retreat from Egypt, an open breach with Russia (Central Asia), and renewed outrages and rioting in Ireland—the country has itself to thank.

FROM MONTREAL.

Death of One of Mercier's Colleagues—Cause of the Lachine Canal Accident.

End of the Nailmakers' Strike—Increase of Car Conductors' Wages.

Special to THE COLONIST.

MONTREAL, Aug. 12.—The cause of the drowning fatality in the Lachine Canal, reported yesterday, is as follows: The tug William Paul was docked for the night in the basin with three men on board. The engineer left the escape valve open, and during the night water flowed into the tug, drowning the three men as they slept. A raft also sank.

The nail makers strike, begun July 1st, is at last at an end, the factories having accepted the Amalgamated Association scale, with slight amendments. Five hundred men were out.

The Street Railway will increase the salaries of their conductors and drivers 25 per cent, commencing September 1, and also reduce their hours to 10 hours per day. Hon. Geo. Duhamel, Commissioner of Crown Lands in the late Mercier government is dead. He was born in 1835, and in 1883 married a daughter of the late Dr. Adolphe Dugas, a prominent patriot in 1837-38. He was returned to the Legislative Assembly 14th December, 1886, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the member-elect, Mr. Demers. Sworn of the Executive Council, and appointed Solicitor-General 29th January, 1887. Resigned and appointed Commissioner Crown Lands, 1888.

THE CANAL QUESTION.

What the Toronto "Empire" Says with Respect to the Position of Canada.

Toronto, Aug. 12.—The Government organ, the Empire, has an article on the Canal question, which seems to prepare the way for the abolition by the Government of the rebate on canal tolls. It says: "Of course the Government has to weigh the whole question of our relations with the United States, and to decide what is best, under the circumstances, for the whole community; but, for our part, we should regret the withdrawal of the rebate now. It would bear all the appearance of yielding to pressure what was refused to a simple request of the Washington authorities. The Government, however, has the whole responsibility in the matter, and will doubtless decide as seems best for the general interest."

TORONTO TOPICS.

Sir Daniel Wilson's Last Work to be Published—Behring Sea Arbitration.

The Manitoba School Act as Viewed in Quebec—Morse Soap Works Burned.

(Special to THE COLONIST.)

Toronto, Aug. 12.—Dr. Bourinot is here, arranging for the publication of the last literary work of Sir Daniel Wilson.

Christopher Robinson, Q. C., who has who has been acting in conjunction with Hon. C. H. Tupper in the Behring Sea inquiry, arrived home yesterday. Mr. Robinson states that the Arbitration Commission will begin its proceedings in England next spring, and that the decision will settle the sealing question for ever.

The Morse Soap Works, owned and operated by John Taylor & Co., has been damaged to the amount of $20,000, covered by insurance. Spontaneous combustion is supposed to have been the cause of the fire.

A Quebec special to the Globe says the local papers are publishing articles after article on the Manitoba school act, and that it would be matter of no surprise if the Legislature was called upon to sign a formal petition asking for its repeal.

BEHRING SEA ARBITRATION.

The U. S. Case Practically Completed and Ready for the Printers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The State Department has practically completed its preparation of the U. S. contentions in the Behring Sea cases and the manuscript has been sent to the printers. CAPITAL NOTES.

Important Meeting of the Cabinet in Montreal to Consider the Canal Tolls Question.

Plans Approved for Deep Wharf at Albert Head, With Disinfecting Apparatus.

To Raise the San Pedro—Amended Steamboat Act—Inland Revenue.

(From our own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 12.—Owing to the prevalence of cholera in France the importation of rags from that country into Canada has been prohibited.

Parliament has been prorogued pro forma to September 7.

Four Swedes were killed, last week, near Schrieber, by their hand-car being run into by a Canadian Pacific train.

An important meeting of the Cabinet will be held at Premier Abbott's office, in Montreal, to-morrow. It is expected the canal tolls matter will be settled then.

The inland revenue receipts increased, last month, $75,000, chiefly in the item of spirits. The amended Steamboat Inspection Act goes into effect to-morrow. New regulations will appear in the Canada Gazette, respecting the use of boats, life preservers and other life-saving appliances carried by steamboats.

The Minister of Agriculture has approved the plans for a deep wharf at Albert Head, which have been referred to the Public Works department, to call for tenders for construction. A wharf will be built on the bulkhead plan, with a large space in the centre, and of length sufficient to accommodate vessels 600 feet long. The wharf will be fitted with all modern disinfecting appliances.

Capt. Lachlan, of New York, passed through here to-day, en route to Victoria, where he will superintend the raising of the wreck of the San Pedro, at Brodie's Ledge. Two divers accompany him.

VICTORY REMAINED AT HOME

Opening of the Pacific North West Regatta at the Terminal City.

Burrard Inlet Club Juniors Cover Themselves With Deserved Glory.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—The Burrard Inlet club fellows are very happy to-night, and an unrecurrent of quiet satisfaction permeates all Vancouver's sporting circles at the result of the first day of the regatta.

Of course the Vancouver boat club are not very demonstrative, but it was their own fault. While they were smiling among themselves at the way they were going to clean out everything, the Burrards were "saving wood," morning, noon and night, and they deserve their victory. The seniors, however, still feel confident as to the result of Saturday's events.

The junior fours were started by Mr. Fullerton on a straightaway course of a mile and a half. They swished off to the top of the pistol at 6:10 in the evening. The weather was maddening to an oarsman. "The shades of night were falling fast," the sea was choppy, and, alas, the tide flowed angry down the course. The wind was from the east-by-north, and sweeping fitfully down the track it silently beat them back. Between each stroke would blow the wind. It made it hard to row, and another thing to show their pace. The rain kept splashing in the faces of the oarsmen, and still they worked with night and main against the wind and tide and rain.

The winners were flabbergasted when they heard of the slow time made, 10:45, as they thought they were pulling the race of their life, and they were.

The junior four of the Vancouver Boating Club is made up of A. J. Boyd (165 pounds), A. E. Swift (155), F. W. Boulbee (150), J. M. Bowell (155); total, 625.

Burrard Inlet Rowing Club: H. V. Parks (146), J. P. Gaddes (148), T. H. Sisson (147), J. J. Hillier (149); total, 590.

Willamette: F. Sparks (150), W. Kringelbach (160), W. Gillespie (138), C. W. Lansen (140); total, 588.

Portland: H. Steer, (159), E. Dosch, (162), E. Bellinger, (162), R. Farrell, (135). Total, 618.

The Burrard Inlet boys got away first, and it was a very exciting race. Although the Burrards were pulling rather quick, it was a very even stroke and they gradually forged ahead. Practice, hard work—that is what did it. The Portlands were second and the Willamettes were very close, if not ahead of Portland, but steered wide and finished outside the flags.

The Vancouver juniors' team were considered the most promising team on the Pacific Coast, seemed demoralized, no one knows what was the matter except the knowing ones like your correspondent, who puts it down decisively to ill training. The Portlands are happy because they beat the Willamettes. That was the next best thing to winning.

Again the Burrards came to the fore in the junior singles, when A. Henderson, representing that club, won from W. B. Goodwin, of Seattle, and Capt. Sharp, of Portland. The race was a very pretty one, eliciting enthusiastic applause from the reporters and officials behind each spasm of shivers, as the referees' boat pulled her way through the clammy atmosphere. Henderson showed wonderful reserve power, and it was the reserve power that won the race. Two hundred yards from the finish, in the slow time of 11:57, Henderson led by three lengths.

Your correspondent wishes to call attention to the courteous behaviour of the management to the press. There is "no kick coming" this time. J. M. Duxton judged the races excellently.

Drowned in the St. Lawrence—The St. John Gazette Burned—Struck by Lightning.

(Special to THE COLONIST.)

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 12.—The body of a woman named Warner was found floating in the river, last evening. It is alleged that she was deserted by her husband, a couple of weeks ago, and becoming despondent took to drink which, it is thought, led her to suicide.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 12.—The building occupied by the St. John Gazette was badly gutted by fire, yesterday morning. The plant of the newspaper mostly escaped. The building and contents were insured for $17,000.

PETERBORO, Ont., Aug. 12.—The Lindsay Lumber Company's lumber and shingle mill at Kilmount, was struck by lightning, yesterday, and destroyed, together with large quantity of lumber. Loss $20,000, partially insured.

WINNIPEG WIRINGS.

Winnipeg's Fair Next Year to be of a Dominion Character—Harvesting Begin.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 12 (Special).—Sir George Dillib, Premier of New South Wales, passed through the city to-day en route home.

Next year Winnipeg's industrial exhibition will be held from July 17th to 21st inclusive. The directors have appointed a special committee to interview the Ottawa authorities with a view to securing a grant towards the fair of 1893, with the object of making it of a Dominion character.

An Elkhorn dispatch to the Free Press says: Joseph Broadly started cutting a 300 acres field of wheat this morning, which is one mile from here. Several others will begin to-morrow. The wheat is an excellent sample and the yield good.

GREAT NAVAL REVIEW.

Every Preparation Already Making to Have It In Every Way Representative.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—It is understood that all the new warships on the Pacific Coast, except the Monterey, will be started around in this direction, to reach here for the great naval review in April next.

The State Department has acted promptly in the provision in the Naval Appropriation Act, authorizing the President to issue invitations to foreign naval powers to participate in the naval review in Hampton Roads and New York harbor in April. Invitations have already been prepared and are being sent out to every country possessing the semblance of a navy. This is all that can be done formally until acceptance is noted from the countries invited. It is presumed that all the nations making any pretensions to having a navy will be present, and acting on this presumption, the naval authorities are going ahead with the preparations of the programme. An additional appropriation will be necessary to pay the extra seamen required for new ships and for the entertainment of the visitors. Half a million is little more than sufficient for the construction of the caravels now building in Spain. Rear-Admiral Gerchard said yesterday that he was to be in charge of affairs, and it was the purpose of the department to have all available vessels participate, including those now on foreign stations.

AMERICAN NEWS.

Greeting the Warships.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Aug. 12.—The cruisers Charleston and Boston arrived together, and dropped anchor promptly at 4:10 o'clock, a mile off the bath houses. Immediately Admiral Irwin came ashore. In the history of Santa Cruz there was never such a crowd as was assembled, this afternoon, on the cliff road and beach, in carriages and on foot.

Chemainus Mill Closed Down—Small-pox Wiped Out at New Westminster.

Extension of Vancouver's Sewerage—Injunction Against Paying for the Comox Dismissed.

(Special to the Colonist.)

VANCOUVER.
VANCOUVER, Aug. 12.—Rev. J. Buntin has resigned the pastorate of Mount Pleasant Baptist church. He goes to Brantford. H. Chapman was robbed of $25, last night, by a man entering his bedroom and taking it from his trousers' pocket. The thief escaped.

J. Adair, charged with assault upon a little girl, got six months at hard labor. The injunction issued against the city for the purpose of restraining it from paying the Union Steamship company $400 for carrying the city officials to Victoria on the contempt of court summons, has fallen through, the applicant to pay the costs.

A contract for fifty thousand feet of sewerage work was let to-day. The lucky ones are Potter & Flett, 21,557 feet, $22,000; Boyd & Clendenning, 19,993 feet, for $20,175; and McQuarrie & Co., $129 feet, $7,540.

The difficulty in getting light for the Opera House will probably close it up until January. The power is still very limited.

WESTMINSTER.
NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 12.—The inquest into the Rivers' Inlet tragedy is still proceeding and will not conclude before tomorrow.

The steamer Fairy Queen sprung a leak last night and was filled nearly to sinking point when the watchman discovered the trouble. She was towed to Terhune's yard and hauled on the ways.

The steamer Delaware broke her shaft to-day opposite Langley and was towed to the city by the steamer Sunbury. It will be a month before the shaft can be replaced.

The Delaware had just come off the ways after a thorough overhauling.

The official test of the water works for fire purposes was a complete success. In the tower part of the city, with four streams, a pressure of 155 pounds to the square inch was maintained and the water forced 30 feet above a five-story block.

In the highest level of the city two streams were forced over the tower on C. J. Major's residence, a height of about 60 feet.

Mrs. Kelly and children, smallpox suspects, were released from quarantine to-night, also the two Chinese convalescents. Rev. Father Kelly is convalescent, and smallpox is wiped out here.

NANAIMO.
NANAIMO, Aug. 12.—The new church of the Church of England was formally opened last Sunday at Comox by Ven. Archdeacon Scriven. There was a large attendance. Rev. Mr. Willemar is rector. It is a substantial frame building situated on Comox Bay.

The steamer Joan brought down a large consignment of coke from Union.

Nothing further has been learned of the missing Mrs. Fitzgerald. Search parties so far have been unable to find any trace of her. It is supposed she has been carried off by some wild animal.

On Tuesday last the steamer Joan left Union wharf with about 100 excursionists. She went among the islands and north to Seymour Narrows. A splendid time was enjoyed.

CHEMAINUS.
CHEMAINUS, Aug. 12.—A public meeting of the Chemainus Good Templar Lodge, was held last Friday, Rev. A. E. Green, G. C. T., being present and conducting the installation of officers for the quarter. The following officers were duly installed: Bro. Pearson, G. C. T.; Sister Pottinger, V. T.; Bro. Hall, P. C. E.; Sister Kersley, Chaplain; Bro. Kirkendall, Secretary; Sister Wilson, Assistant Secretary; Bro. Pottinger, Financial Secretary; Sister Port, Treasurer; Sister Minnie Grey, Marshal; Bro. Telford, Deputy Marshal; Bro. C. Westhaver, Guard; Bro. Porter, Sentinel. After the installation Mr. Green delivered a temperance address, and a short programme was rendered by the members of the lodge. The new regalia have arrived, and were used for the first time Friday evening.

The Guinevere, although delayed by the shortness of her crew, was towed out last week by the Lorne, and will unship her cargo at Valparaiso.

The Daisy last week towed out three large scows, loaded with timbers.

Mr. Barclay, from Kamloops, has purchased the farm of Mr. Severn, on Thetis Island.

The mill has closed down for an indefinite period. Business has been rather slack of late, and the company has found it necessary to stop all work. Many of the employees intend leaving town immediately.

They Stole the Opium.
A Port Townsend dispatch of Aug. 11, says: Fred Gilmore, captain of the steamer Wilmington, which plies between Puget Sound and British Columbia ports, is an embarrassing predicament with the customs officers. While taking cargo aboard at Vancouver, B.C., yesterday, he learned that one of the crew had smuggled 10 pounds of opium aboard. After a brief search he found the drug. The result of a consultation with S. G. Todd, United States Inspector of Customs at Vancouver, developed the fact that the opium could not be seized in that port. Captain Gilmore being desirous of getting the informers' fee, 25 per cent. of the appraised valuation, accordingly took the opium back aboard the steamer and securely locked it up in his room. He wired the customs officers at this port to meet his vessel at 2 o'clock, this morning, and make the seizure. The officers were on hand and Captain Gilmore led the way to room where the opium had been left. The opium was not there. Some one, presumably, had entered the room and surreptitiously abstracted the drug. Gilmore was struck dumb with amazement. He realized that he had confessed to the officers that he had taken the opium aboard, and was thereby guilty of smuggling. Notwithstanding a most vigilant search, the opium could not be found. Gilmore is endeavoring to place himself in a proper light before the customs officers. He claims that he slept in the room until Point Wilson was reached, and then turned out.

The opium was locked up in his writing desk. When the party returned it was plainly evident that some one had forced an entrance into the room and pried the desk open with a chisel, which they left behind, and abstracted the opium.

The case will be submitted to Collector Vasson for investigation.

PROHIBITION AT THE POLLS.

Deliverance of the Royal Templars of Temperance on the Subject.

(Special to the Colonist.)

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 12.—The Dominion Council of the Royal Templars of Temperance discussed at yesterday's session, the question of a plebiscite in Ontario on the question of prohibition. The decision of the council was as follows: "This council firmly adheres to the principle of responsible Government; that the initiating, enacting and enforcing of legislation rests with the Government, therefore, while not endorsing or asking for a plebiscite, should such a vote be submitted to the people of this Dominion, the council stands pledged to use its utmost endeavors to make the majority in favor of prohibition as large as possible."

A Snugging Match.

There was a brief but interesting snugging match witnessed on the Yates street wagon stand, south of Government street, yesterday afternoon, and the novelty of the proceeding was that it was a sit-down contest. Two of the expressmen sat on a driver's seat discussing some subject unknown to themselves. They disagreed, and one struck the other, the result being a fight. As both were "game," neither would show the white feather by leaving his seat, and in this position they battled at each other for several minutes, and even when peace-makers appeared upon the scene, they found a difficulty in separating the contestants. There are bitter complaints from the business men of the district as to the disorderly conduct of a few of the men who put up at this stand.

Take Hood's and only Hood's, because Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures. It possesses merit peculiar to itself. Try it yourself.

VISITING VANCOUVER.

The Provincial Health Officer Talks Over Matters With the Municipal Authorities.

His Reply to Officer Huntly's Cheeky Communication—An Understanding Reached.

When the Yosemite arrived in Vancouver on Wednesday morning, no inspection was made of the passengers, the proper officials not being in attendance. The passengers after some delay were landed, among others Dr. Davie, Provincial Health Officer, who was on an official visit to the Terminal City.

Dr. Davie at once drove to the office of Dr. McQuigan, Health Officer for the district and Chairman of the Vancouver Board of Health. There he met Dr. McQuigan, Health Inspector Huntly, and Dr. Wilson Herald, City Health Officer. Dr. Herald immediately stated to Dr. Davie that he had resigned his position as local health officer, one of the reasons for such resignation being that he had not been properly supported in carrying out his duties by the municipal officers. For instance, that morning he had been unable to inspect the Yosemite's passengers because there was no police officer in attendance to assist.

After some consultation, Dr. Davie induced him to withdraw his resignation and told him he would do everything in his power to back him up in carrying out and enforcing the rules. Afterwards Chief of Police McLaren, who came in, promised that in future there would be no lack of police support. Some time was then spent by Dr. Davie in writing out in detail instructions for the guidance of the city and district health officers, similar to the rules enforced in Victoria. Among these instructions was the following:

"All cases of smallpox to be placed on Deadman's Island immediately."

The conference concluded, the Provincial and local health officers made an inspection of the district stations and upon their return to the city, the following letter (written by Dr. Davie to the City Council) was handed to Dr. Davie, Dr. McQuigan and Herald being served with the same notice:

J. C. Davie, Esq., M. D., Provincial Health Officer.

SIR,—You are hereby required to take notice that no person suffering from smallpox, or who has been in contact with the said disease, will be allowed to come into the city of Vancouver, and any person bringing any person suffering from the said disease into the city, will be proceeded against under the provisions of the Public Health By-Law of the city of Vancouver. You will, therefore, please be governed accordingly.

Yours respectfully,
J. HUNTLY,
Health Officer,
City of Vancouver.

This letter was couched in rather more peremptory terms than Dr. Davie thought should be addressed to him by any city officer, and he promptly sent him the following very pointed reply:

Mr. J. Huntly, Health Inspector, etc.

SIR,—In reference to your communication of even date to me, I am afraid you mistake our relative positions. As Health Inspector, it is for you to carry out any instructions I may issue to you, certainly not for me to take any orders from you.

I am, Sir,
Yours very truly,
J. C. DAVIE,
Provincial Health Officer.

Shortly after this Dr. Davie met Mayor Cope and several of the aldermen and urged upon them to allow him to discuss this portion of his instructions with the Council that evening. This proposition was acquiesced in, and when the usual business of the Council had been concluded Dr. Davie was introduced and took the question up. In the course of his remarks Dr. Davie told the Board of Aldermen that it was his duty to stamp out the present epidemic in the province and he had come to Vancouver to assist them in perfecting their methods. He had spent the day with their health officers in looking over the situation and discussing various details. Up to a certain point, he said, the health officers of the city had done their work well. Had the Victoria officials acted as energetically and taken the matter in hand at the outset, as Vancouver had done, the sad consequences which followed would undoubtedly have been avoided. In Victoria the policy of "letting it rip" had been adopted, and so the Provincial Government had been compelled to step in. Beyond a certain point, however, he was not in accord with what had been done in Vancouver, such as in quarantining other parts of the province.

Continuing, he told them plainly that the rules adopted by the city health officer as to discharging patients were unsafe, and hence the difficulty in regarding the status of City of Nanaimo. This, however, was a medical question, and had been settled with the city medical health officer.

The chief mistake, however, he had found in their arrangements for Vancouver and district was the multiplicity of quarantine stations.

"You have here four separate stations," he said, "and consequently four distinct sources of danger, and if these were collected into one place the danger would be minimized by so much. Whether it be health stations or houses containing smallpox cases, the fewer the better. He had issued instructions and recommended that all be removed to the one station at Deadman's Island. He was told the city was erecting a permanent hospital, and if it were ready he would recommend the removal of all patients and suspects to it. He had been given to understand that Deadman's Island was not a popular place for such a hospital, but he thought it was naturally adapted for an isolation hospital, being out of the way and separated from the city by water. He could see no argument for having three stations, which would be more expensive; there would be three dangers instead of one, and would be more difficult to administer. He had been told one objection was that in the official reports it would appear that there were these extra cases in Vancouver, but he thought that of small consequence contrasted with the increased safety. In this, their own health officers thoroughly agreed with him. Some complaint had been made to him that he had not made the official reports as favorable for Vancouver as for Victoria. If they could suggest to him how this could be done he would be happy to do what he could to make a change for the better. Deadman's Island was the property of the Government and as the city was using it with the assent of the Provincial Government, it seemed strange that the patients from around the city could not be placed there. If sent there the Government would bear the expense of removal and maintenance. He had visited the patients and considered that they could be removed with safety. Both were doing well, but one of these could not be discharged for three weeks without danger to the community. He did not care whether they were put at Deadman's Island or at the new hospital, so long as all the cases were together. If the city would have the most favorable report possible, it should do as he said (laughter). He then read the letter he had received from Mr. Huntly, and the reply he had felt called upon to send. If the city wished to communicate with him, he said, it should be through the Mayor and Council, and any communication received in that way would be treated with due respect. After some discussion between the Mayor and Council, and the Provincial Health Officer, it was mutually agreed that all the cases should be placed in the new hospital specially erected for quarantine purposes.

MARINE MOVEMENTS.

The Missionary Steamer Wants to Carry Passengers—That Useful Whistle.

The British ship Mylomena, 1,900 tons, is on berth at Comby for British Columbia. She is probably coming north for lumber.

The Hawaiian bark Manu Ahi, from Honolulu, is on her way to British Columbia. S.S. Palmas sailed for the Orient yesterday.

Mr. F. C. Davidge will, to-day or tomorrow, despatch the Mascotte to San Francisco, it being his intention to ship half the steamer's cargo over the C. P. R. and half over the Southern railway.

The chief engineer on Spratt's Ark is making considerable alterations to the melodious whistle belonging to the Ark. Instead of that prolonged electrifying howl for which the craft is now more than famous, the whistle will be turned into a kind of patent musical instrument, which, when the steam is properly applied, will play almost any tune in the repertoire of the circus calliope.

Steamer Maude is discharging her cargo of coal at the C. P. N. Co.'s wharf.

Tug Topic came over from Vancouver yesterday for a scow load of brick.

Steamer T. W. Carter has arrived back from Port San Juan.

The Government steamer Quaker will not be able to come out of the dry dock before Tuesday or Wednesday next.

The Methodist missionary steamer, Glad Tidings, with Rev. Mr. Tate on board, arrived from Port Simpson via Westminster, yesterday morning, having called at many ports and inlets on the way down. She brings no late news and her object in coming here is to undergo inspection and secure, if possible, a license for carrying passengers.

If the license is obtained she will leave again on Monday morning for the northern end of Vancouver Island where she expects to take a small party of prospectors. She will still carry on her missionary work, which will in future be confined chiefly to the Island.

The steamer City of Puebla, the next San Francisco boat to arrive, has the following Victoria passengers on board: Mrs. M. F. Owen, Anna F. Keller, Miss M. Chambers, C. Lane, J. E. Jones, E. Frezicki and Mrs. Arkwright.

FOR MEN ONLY.

This title doesn't "go" any more, as the ladies have adopted about everything shown above, unless it be the pants. But the lords of creation are forced to plod in the beaten track, and there is little change this season in men's apparel.

The "change" is fairly rapid with us, however, as we are making a splendid drive in neckwear and furnishings this week.

THE CHANGE OF GOVERNMENT.

No time will be lost in effecting a change of Government in Great Britain. The vote of want of confidence, on Thursday, formally decided the fate of the Salisbury Government. Mr. Gladstone's majority is small, and his party is composed of discordant elements, but these considerations can have no weight with Lord Salisbury, when it is once apparent that a majority of the people's representatives are opposed to his policy. The Times, discussing the situation immediately after the election, said: "The Government, of course, have no desire to remain in office for a single hour after Mr.
Gladstone has arrayed his majority."

It is quite probable that Lord Salisbury would have resigned directly after the election if, previous to it, Mr. Gladstone had defined his policy in the matter of Home Rule for Ireland. During the whole election campaign, that "old parliamentary hand" confined himself to generalities when discussing Home Rule. He took very great care not to commit himself to any specific course. It is more than likely that it was with the expectation of forcing Mr. Gladstone to be more definite on the subject of Home Rule that he deferred his resignation until after the meeting of Parliament.

If he expected from Mr. Gladstone a clear exposition of his policy in the debate on the want of confidence motion he was disappointed. Mr. Gladstone's speech left his party and the country as much in the dark as to the nature of his Home Rule measure as they were before it was delivered. His speech was eloquent and skillfully worded, but it did not contain the information which all his opponents and many of his followers were desirous to obtain. It is very clear that Mr. Gladstone is determined not to take the country into his confidence until he brings down his Home Rule measure.
The vote of want of confidence has been taken and yet the responsibility of the incoming ministers has not been properly defined.

The Times, in a semi-official manner, on the 20th of last month, assured the country that—
"Mr. Gladstone, in any case, will find no delays interposed. He will be promptly and firmly met by the Unionists, who, whatever may be the result of the present campaign, are determined that there shall be no further appeal to the nation before a policy, kept studiously concealed from the electors of this country, is forced upon them, against their declared convictions, by Welsh, Irish and Separatist votes."

This is how the Liberal Conservative party of England accepts the defeat at the polls and on the floor of Parliament. They are very far from regarding it as decisive or final, and they are determined, when Mr.
Gladstone has declared his policy—when the nation knows what Home Rule, according to Gladstone, really means—to compel him again to appeal to the polls. This, with the help of the House of Lords, it will not be difficult to do. The appeal from the country ill-informed to the country well-informed, must appear, to all reasonable men, to be perfectly legitimate. The people who have been required to vote in the dark have a right to have the question submitted to them again when light has been thrown upon it.

How a considerable number of the Conservatives are disposed to treat Mr. Gladstone and his snap majority after they have assumed the reins of power may be inferred from the following extract from one of their leading organs, the Saturday Review. In an article, on the result of the elections, that paper says:

"Against a party so constituted every attack that is not dishonourable is lawful, and, fortunately, its constitution makes attack easy. If a Gladstonian Government ever gets afloat it will start with doing egotism in the captain's cabin, double-dealing and office-seeking on the quarter deck, greed and ignorance in the forecastle.
Every mother's son among the Unionists deserves a flogging if he does not do his utmost to sink, burn and destroy such a craft as this."

If such a spirit as is indicated by the above extract is general among the Unionists of Great Britain, who form a majority of its population, Mr. Gladstone and his followers may expect a rather hard time of it. There will be wigs on the green before very long. It is quite certain that the Unionists, fighting for what they regard as a sacred cause—the integrity of the Empire —will contest every inch of ground; and it is certain, too, that they will use every weapon which the constitution places at their disposal.

The prospect at this moment is that difficulties at home will not be the only ones which the Gladstone Ministry will have to contend with. Matters look threatening in the East. It is not by any means unlikely that before very long Great Britain will have to contend with Russia for her Indian possessions. There is a prospect of trouble with Morocco, and there are disputes to be settled in other parts of the world. So that Mr. Gladstone, in accepting office in his eighty-third year, is undertaking tasks and incurring responsibilities which might well appal a great statesman in the prime of life.

It is altogether unlikely that he will be able to complete what he has commenced, and if he breaks down, he will leave no man behind him capable of completing the work of disunion and disintegration. The great probability is, then, that the victory just gained will be to the Gladstonian party an exceedingly barren one.

PRODIGIOUS!!

Canadians will read the following paragraph, taken from the Boston Traveller, with surprise:

"The real trouble with Canada is that she is under the domination of a foreign government, which interferes with her freedom of action, which prevents her from entering into desirable relations with the United States, which disregards her rights and interests, which hinders the development of her resources, which imposes burdensome responsibilities upon her, which impoverishes her to her shame, which has set up a pretentious aristocracy which compels her forever to realize that she is only a province, which keeps her in perpetual trouble over one thing or another, and which has made life in Canada intolerable to millions of Canadians who have taken refuge in this country. Canada's remedy for her troubles is Canadian independence."

This fairly takes one's breath away. It might be supposed, from the blunders which the Traveller makes, that Boston is at the Antipodes or in Central Africa, or in some part of the world in which Canada is to its inhabitants a mere geographical expression. It is, indeed, hard to believe that the extract is taken from a respectable newspaper published in Boston, a few hours journey from Canadian cities, and conducted by men supposed to be intelligent and well educated.

Any United States citizen who makes the least pretensions to intelligence, ought to know that Canadians are not under the domination of a foreign government, and that their liberty of action is not interfered with by any power outside the Government which they choose as freely and as independently as the citizens of the States of the Union choose theirs. It is, indeed, hard to imagine a people whose liberty of action is less interfered with than is that of the inhabitants of the Dominion of Canada. How often will our American neighbors need to be told that Great Britain imposes no "burdensome responsibilities" upon Canadians? They should know by this time that Canadians possess the right of imposing their own burdens, and that Great Britain does not take from them one single dollar in the shape of taxes. The acts of the Canadian Government which bring it into collision with the United States were done altogether independently of Great Britain. Her advice was not asked with respect to the rebates on canal tolls, which is the subject that the Traveller discusses.
The probability is that Great Britain did not know of the existence of the rebates until it was brought to the knowledge of her Government by the complaints of the United States. Canadians do not believe that Great Britain has made life in Canada intolerable. They are not such fools. The vast majority love and admire their Mother Country, and regard the severance of the tie that binds them to her as a great misfortune as could befall them.

STILL WANTED.

The information given by the Times and the explanations made by the Mayor and some of the aldermen show that they have no idea what the expenses connected with stamping out the smallpox are likely to be.
It is evident that they do not know whether the expenditure will be forty, fifty, sixty or seventy thousand dollars. This does not say much for their business ability, or for the interest they have taken in the work of preventing the spread of the smallpox.
That business is not so intricate that a fair accountant could not in a very short time be able to tell the rate-payers to within a few hundred dollars what the expenditure has been and what it is likely to be.

We cannot help thinking that if the civic authorities did not wish to create the impression that the Provincial Health Officer and his subordinates have been fearfully extravagant they would have contrived to be much more definite in their statements than they have been.

Our contemporary, the Times, has been compelled to retract the statement that the matters connected with the expenditure of the health department are in a muddle, as far as the Jubilee station is concerned, and, we observe, that it is a little more cautious
as to what is said with respect to the suspect station accounts. It may, by and by, occur to it that men who are professedly engaged in a work, as the Local Board of Health is with respect to the suppression of the smallpox outbreak, ought to be expected to know something about the way in which it is conducted and the cost of it to the city. The Times would, no doubt, indignantly deny that, in that very important work, they are acting the part of the somewhat famous "flies on the wheel."
Yet, if that is not the case, it is very hard indeed to understand how it is that they are not in a position to give the ratepayers some definite information as to the expenditure in matters relating to health.

We hope that before it is too late they will make some enquiries and show the citizens that they are not asking for twice as much as is required. It is all very fine to say that, if they get authority to raise more than is needed, the money will not be borrowed. It is, as everyone knows, quite unusual for corporations to exercise such self-denial. They generally go, in the matter of spending, to the full length of their tether, and often a good deal beyond it.
At any rate, it is not business to ask for a lump sum for a certain service without knowing how much of it will be required.

We are quite sure that the rate-payers will cheerfully pay all the expenses really incurred in freeing the city of the smallpox.
They are pleased to see that the work has been done so thoroughly, so energetically and so quickly. They very well know that so difficult a work could not be done for a trifle, and they are consequently prepared to foot the bills, but it is surely not unreasonable for them to want to know the probable amount of those bills.
They will, we have no doubt, pay the $75,- 000, if that sum is needed, but they have no idea of voting in the dark. Let the public have some information. There was really none at all in the article headed "Information Given."

UNRELIABLE CHARTS.

The accident to H.M.S. Warspite ought to convince the Dominion authorities that the time has arrived to commence a thorough hydrographic survey of British Columbia waters. The Warspite grazed a rock where the chart showed that there was more than water enough to float any ship that was ever built. As in the case of the Quadra, a few months ago, the chart, instead of being a safe guide to the navigator, led the ship into danger. Happily no lives were lost, but under different circumstances the unreliability of the chart might have been the cause of the loss of hundreds of lives. It is surely time that the men who navigate British Columbia waters should be able to obtain charts on which they can depend.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

When Bishop Lemmens reads the opening sentences of his very vigorous letter as they appear in print, he will, we think, consider them rather brusque, and not altogether just to the editor of this paper. He must readily see that the statements made on such a subject are, like those he himself makes, derived from what the writer considered authentic sources. A man can hardly be considered ignorant of a subject who derives his information from what are considered, by intelligent men, reliable publications. We derived our information of what is going on in Uganda from the letters of Captain Lugard and Captain Williams, and from articles in the Fortnightly Review and the London Times.
We have not had access to the reports of recent events that were circulated under the authority of the French Vicar-Apostolic, but we see that these reports are characterized by Mr. G. S. McKenzie in the Fortnightly, as "distorted." We do not know whether the epithet, as applied to those reports, is deserved or not; but what we wish to suggest to His Lordship is that a "British Columbia editor," if he avails himself of the opportunities of gaining information that are open to him, is as likely to be well-informed on "Uganda affairs" as any one else in the community.

THE CITY.

Appointed Arbitrators.

Messrs. Andrew Gray (Spratt & Gray) and W. Kessler (Albion Iron Works) have been appointed arbitrators in connection with the recent tramway fire.

Auction Prices.

This is what tells. Hence the large and increasing sale of furniture, carpets, &c., at the Schl-Hastie-Erskine Company's. Now is the time for bargains.

Baptism in Jail.

An unusual circumstance occurred in the Provincial jail on Sunday morning last, when Rev. J. E. Gardner, of the Methodist Chinese Mission, baptised a Chinaman now undergoing a term of imprisonment.

Buck in a Little.

A very little money goes a very long way at Lange & Co.'s, owing to the sweeping reductions made in order to clear out the entire stock. An inspection of Lange & Co.'s jewelry will convince anybody that the sale is a bona fide clearance sale of first-class guaranteed goods.

In the Knives.

Ed. Young, an employe of Smith's sash, door and blind factory yesterday lost the end of the forefinger of his left hand in one of the machines. He was running a board through the jointer when it tipped over and let his hand into the knives. It was a narrow escape from more serious injury.

Y. M. C. A.

Mr. H. R. Elson is acting pro tem. as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in this city. A meeting of the directors of the association will be called shortly, and it is thought one of the questions to come up for discussion will be the election of a person to fill the situation permanently, and no doubt Mr. Elson will be asked to continue the work.

Concert at the Gardens.

Prof. Finn's City Band will give a concert, to-night, at the Victoria Gardens, providing prominent and dance music for the crowd of visitors who are expected to be on hand. The grounds will be prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns, and excellent refreshments will be provided by Mrs. Davies. All arrangements have been made, so that those who attend will have a more than usually enjoyable time.

A Heavy Fine.

A Port Townsend despatch says: E. A. Wadhams, manager of the Anglo-British Packing Company, Ladner's Landing, British Columbia, paid into the custom house to-day $1,400, which was the amount of the fine imposed by Collector Wasson on the British steamer Winnifred, for violating the American navigation laws. The steamer was detected near Blaine last week taking fresh fish from aboard sloops without having first made entry at the sub-customs port. She was seized and fined. The steamer has been allowed to return to British waters.

Will Not Come Here.

Premier Sir George Dibbs, of New South Wales, wired yesterday morning to Secretary Elworthy, of the B. C. Board of Trade, that he will be unable to visit Victoria. His present intention is to make San Francisco by way of Mission Junction, as his steamer sails from there midday July 19, and it is imperative that he shall return without delay. It is to be regretted that he is unable to come here, as the Board of Trade would have liked very much to have heard his views on the subject of a cable line to Australia.

Lacrosse Music.

The following programme of selections will be rendered by the Victoria City Band in the Caledonia grounds, commencing at 2:30 this afternoon:

March—Semper Parvallis.....Sonar
Overture—If Polka.....Doncetti

The J. N. Muir Case.

The Grand Assembly of the Presbyterian church came to the following conclusion in the case of the appeal of J. N. Muir against the decision of the Presbytery of Columbia of March 10, 1892: "We sustain the appeal, inasmuch as notwithstanding the vexatious conduct of Mr. Muir, the Presbytery in summarily suspending him sine die, dealt with undue severity. At the same time express sympathy with the Presbytery in the unusually difficult circumstances of the case, and declare the conduct of Mr. Muir highly censurable; notwithstanding, remove the suspension now resting on him, and in the interest of peace, instruct the session to give him a letter of dismission, that he may seek admission to another congregation, and enjoin Mr. Muir henceforth to seek earnestly to live peaceably with all men."

The Coming Exhibition.

A meeting of the B. C. Agricultural Association directors was held in the secretary's office, Douglas street, last evening, with a good attendance. Several matters in connection with the coming exhibition were discussed and disposed of. The offer of the Jockey Club to take charge of all liquid and solid refreshments during the fair was accepted. A letter was ordered to be written to the Tramway Company, for the purpose of ascertaining what date it was expected to have the cars running. It was also decided to finally close entries on Saturday evening, the 24th September, the exhibition days being September 27, 28, 29, 30, and October 1. A meeting will be called for Thursday evening next, to arrange several important matters, at which a full attendance of directors is urgently requested.

The New Power House.

The directors of the Tramway company held another meeting, yesterday morning, when they accepted plans for their new buildings, power house, etc., and made the preliminary arrangements to have the work done on with at once and pushed forward as rapidly as is possible consistent with first-class work.

The plans, which have been prepared by Mr. John Teague, provide for a commodious building of brick, stone, iron, cement and asbestos, as nearly fire proof as possible. Both tramway and electric lighting apparatus will be under the same roof, all the heavy machinery, engines, etc., being on the ground floor, with offices, repairing rooms, store rooms and the like upstairs. There is to be a large air shaft from the basement through to the roof, to give ventilation. All departments of the building will be fitted and furnished with hydrants and fire hose, to insure expediency in getting water on the flames should another fire ever occur.

The Victoria & Sidney R. R. Co.

A meeting of the Victoria & Sidney Railway Co. will be held in the company's office this morning, when some very important business will be introduced.

Postponed.

A meeting of the Site committee and the Managing committee of the Protestant Orphans' Home, was to have been held for the purpose of selecting a site for the new home yesterday, but the inclement weather prevented a visit to the properties, and the meeting was postponed for a few days.

Educating the Chinese.

The Presbyterian Chinese mission, started in June last, is doing good work among the Celestials, about 40 of whom are attending night school, held in the Trades and Labor hall, five nights each week. A number of volunteer teachers have undertaken to do the needful, and their pupils, ranging in age from 10 to 40, are making great progress.

Standard Loan and Savings Co.

There was a meeting of the local board of directors of the Standard Loan & Savings Co. last night, the president, H. B. W. Aikman, in the chair. The other directors present were Mr. Jas. H. Falconer, Dr. Jones and Mr. S. Jones. Mr. J. J. Austin, secretary, having read the minutes of last meeting, tendered his resignation, which was reluctantly accepted by the board. Under the circumstances no business was done, pending the appointment of a successor.

And Still No New Cases.

Following is the official report of the state of the smallpox outbreak in the province:

Alleged Chinese Swindle.

A New Westminster contemporary publishes an advertisement, setting forth that "Quong High Long, of Victoria, last summer had $13,000 worth of goods in his store. The book-keeper, Sun Set Wing, sold the goods and ran away with the money, and paid no debts." The advertisement is signed "Ying Kee." A Colonist reporter endeavored to find out something as to the absconding book-keeper, but Sun Set Wing is unknown in Chinatown. There is no such firm in Victoria as that of Quong High Long. There is, however, a store on Comorant street where business is, or was, carried on by one Quong Tai Lung, who, last year, left Victoria for China on a visit. Since his departure the business has been managed unsuccessfully by his book-keeper, and a couple of days ago the stock-in-trade, valued at a couple of hundred dollars, was sold out by the sheriff. The book-keeper, however, is still to the good, and so far from running away, may be seen at any time in Chinatown. Their store, it is said, never carried a stock of more than $500 or $600. Ying Kee is unknown in Chinatown, and the whole thing is ridiculed there as a clumsy fabrication.

"Lobby" After Heneghe.

London (Eng.) Truth:—It has been widely hoped in the service, that the criticism of Truth and other papers had cured Sir Algernon Heneghe of his grandmotherly interest in the clothing of those under his command. It will be seen, however, from the following proclamation, that the Vice Admiral has broken out again in a new direction. In many respects, this latest aberration is more objectionable than the gallant officer's solicitude about the linen and underclothing of his fleet. If this is really what we pay an Admiral £2,500 a year for, I shall suppose that we place the fleet in charge of a respectable matron:

"WILDFIRE" AT SHEERNESS.
Gen. Mem. No. 37.
1. Plain clothes for officers on Sundays. An instance having come to my observation of an officer belonging to one of H. M. ships in port, appearing in the Dockyard, on a Sunday forenoon, dressed in a light colored suit of clothes. Officers serving under my orders are informed that when permitted to wear plain clothes on the occasions sanctioned by the regulations, they are expected to appear on Sundays, while in the Dockyard, in the uniform of the service. (Signed) A. C. F. HENEGHE.

MEN ADMIRE BEAUTY IN WOMEN.

How Women May Become Healthy and Beautiful.

People often wonder why some lady friend is not looking herself. Men who admire beauty in women are the first to detect change and decay. They look with pain and interest on the pale face, the hollow cheeks and the sunken eyes surrounded by dark circles. They no longer feel the force and vigor of youth, and they are conscious of a general feeling of weakness and lassitude. These are all alarming and dangerous signs, and plainly indicate the existence of disease in some form. The troubles mentioned above are usually caused by indigestion, dyspepsia and impure blood, and demand instant attention if women desire to maintain the beauty which a kind Creator has given to them. Many of the healthiest women in Canada, to-day, owe their good health to Paine's Celery Compound. This valuable and soothing medicine quickly removes every obstruction and difficulty. It causes the free stream to course freely and unimpeded through the system, corrects indigestion; it removes the intolerable nerve dyspepsia; it brings the blush of health to the faded cheek, and gives to the whole system a new vigor. Paine's Celery Compound is truly woman's best friend in her hour of suffering, and will do more for her than all the efforts of physicians.

A Secret Explained.

Excellence in quality combined with cheapness in price explains the real secret of the great success that has attended the big clearing sale of furniture, carpets, etc. (at less than auction prices) at the warehouses of the Schl-Hastie-Erskine Co. This well-known firm invites intending purchasers to step in and examine their extensive stock. No trouble to show goods. New bed-room suites and sideboards just opened up.

STEEPLECHASED A ROCK.

The Flagship Warspite Gets a Bad Bump While Coming Through Discovery Pass.

Not Thought to be Very Seriously Damaged—Divers Now Examining the Injuries.

Another Demonstration of the Urgent Need of a Complete Hydrographic Survey.

H. M. S. Warspite, the flagship of the Pacific fleet, ran on a rock in Discovery Pass, yesterday morning, and sustained injuries, the extent of which are as yet unknown.

She was steaming along at the rate of about 14 knots an hour, at the time of the accident, heading for Esquimalt Harbor, after her cruise up the Coast. No one on board thought of danger. The navigating officer in charge was steering close by the chart, which showed a depth of water ample for a ship with twice the draught of the Warspite, and there was nothing, whatever, to indicate that the channel was unsafe.

The first sign of the sunken rock was when the Warspite struck it and trembled from stem to stern. She did not come to a full stop but slowed up just a little, and then went ahead, making a complete "steep-chase," in which the "hurdle" was grazed. The tide at the time was not full but was flowing in, so that it is reasonable to suppose had the Warspite struck at low tide she would have had a bad hole in her bottom. As it was, everyone on board both heard and felt the jar.

An immediate examination was made, the well being sounded to see if any water was being taken in. The result was satisfactory. If any, it was so little that it was at once apparent the damage was very slight. A full head of steam was put on, and the Warspite steamed on for Esquimalt.

She arrived in yesterday evening, and divers were at once sent down to make an examination. Up to a late hour last night no further particulars of the extent of the injury could be ascertained. It is found that the plates are injured, the Warspite will be ordered into the drydock, where a more thorough examination can be made and the injuries repaired. Up to the time that she arrived at Esquimalt no water of any account had been taken.

Every Victorian almost has seen the Warspite and knows what she looks like. In the Navy List she is classed as a twin screw cruiser, 1st class, armored. She is 8,400 tons register, and has 10,000 horse power engines. As the flagship, she has been the centre of attraction of the fleet, and it is hoped the injuries will be found to be even less extensive than is now supposed.

As was the case in Rose Harbor, when the Dominion Government steamer Quadra was wrecked, the chart showed plenty of water for perfectly safe navigation, but notwithstanding this a rock was discovered. The accident is another illustration of the necessity of a hydrographic survey of the coast of the province.

QUARANTINE RAISED

By the Puget Sound Board of Health, but Dr. Conover is Still Dissatisfied.

He Asks for Certain Information, Which Consul Myers Has Promptly Furnished.

All things come to those who wait, and by the same token, great bodies move slowly. At last the Puget Sound Board of Health has moved, and the decision arrived at is that the quarantine declared against Victoria shall be removed. Traffic will now be resumed on exactly the same conditions as before the first outbreak of smallpox, except that a careful examination will be made of all steamers and trains, and all passengers must present a clean bill of health, signed by some duly qualified physician or health inspector.

The only place where the above arrangement is not yet satisfactory is the all-important Port Townsend. There, it would seem, there are still doubts as to the expediency of raising the quarantine, and an official of the United States Government, to wit, Dr. S. B. Conover, wants some further information before he will act. He wrote by last evening's steamer to U. S. Consul Myers, here, requesting replies to a number of questions, and an answer was immediately sent.

Consul Myers wrote that from his intimate personal knowledge of the circumstances, he was satisfied the reports of the Provincial Health Officer, Dr. Davie, were accurate in every respect, and it would be perfectly safe to raise the quarantine at once.

It was just one month ago yesterday that the quarantine was declared, and of course the practical suspension of business with the Sound ports has been very inconvenient. While many Victorians will rejoice at the termination of the quarantine, there are none who will be better pleased than those Americans who were unfortunately enough to be shut in here. They will lose no time now in returning to their homes.

The City of Kingston will probably come over to-night and take her regular trips in future. Her appearance will be welcomed as it never was before.

Business has been resumed on the main-line railways across the boundary. The following despatch, from Westminster, was received last night: "The quarantine between British Columbia and Washington was raised to-day, and passengers will be permitted to travel south over the Great Northern from here, providing they show a clean bill of health from a licensed physician."

Ask Your Friends

Who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla what they think of it and the replies will be positive in its favor. One has stepped in and out of indigestion and dyspepsia, another finds it indispensable for sick headache, a third reports remarkable cures of scrofula, salt rheum and other blood diseases, still others will tell you that it overcomes "that tired feeling," and so on. Truly, the best advertising which Hood's Sarsaparilla receives is the hearty endorsement of the army of friends it has won by its positive medicinal merit.

It is the Best.

DEAR SIR:—I have used your B. B. B. for the past five or six years, and find it the best cure for sour stomach and biliousness. I have also used Burdock Pills and can recommend them to you.

ALIVE WITH FUR SEALS.

Millions to be Seen in the Ocean for Days in Every Direction.

Capt. Cathans, of the sealing schooner Viva, has returned to San Francisco. He said, in course of an interview: "The waters are full of seals. Millions of them are to be seen. We saw them all the way down from near the edge of the Yellow Sea to close to the Straits of Fuca."

"Talk about the seals dying out," continued the captain. "It's the veriest balderdash, uttered in nine cases out of ten by people who wouldn't know a seal if they saw one. When the fish are all caught out of the Pacific then the seals will be. No body need worry about them till then. We got our seals on the Alaska and American coast, 250 this side of Cape Flattery and 1,508 between there and Cross Sound."

"The quality of the skins this year is first class. The seals are all in fine condition, and there are many bulls. I never saw finer fur than during this season. The skins are averaging about $14 each at Victoria. That is now the best market on the coast. You can get more for them there than here. This is probably the greatest year for seals that has been known for a long time. They are so plentiful that every vessel has done well. Let me give you some figures: The Henry Dennis has taken 1,226, the Viva 1,848, City of San Diego 2,238, Webster 1,840, Carlotta Cox, 2,029, E. B. Marvin 1,825, Walter Earl (not yet in) 1,400, and the Penelope, 1,100. This is a total of 14,136 for these vessels. "The entire fleet of 63 vessels sailing out of Victoria will average 1,000 skins apiece. Besides these Seattle has four or five sealers out, Vancouver, seven, Port Townsend, two, Astoria, three, Portland, two and Tillamook, Yaquina and Coos Bay, one each. Then there are 15 or 20 from here, making approximately 110 vessels.

"The catch for the entire British and American fleet I estimate at from 150,000 to 160,000. It certainly will not fall under 150,000."

BARON HIRSCH.

His Visit to America in the Role of an Arbitrator and Peacemaker.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—An enthusiastic welcome will be given Baron Hirsch by the Hebrews on his arrival in this city, not only because they know what he has done for his countrymen, but also because they are convinced that his principal object in coming here is to patch up the religious differences that have recently caused considerable trouble in Hebrew circles. Many believe that the resolutions recently adopted by the union of American Rabbis are bound to result in schism unless peace be secured by some prominent outsiders, and the story goes that this view of the matter was recently presented to Baron Hirsch in Europe, and that he promptly consented to come to this country in the role of an arbitrator and peacemaker. It is certain that many intelligent and orthodox Hebrews consider Baron Hirsch as the one man who is able to settle this religious quarrel, and on that account they are waiting his arrival with much anxiety.

Blood Poisoning

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, legs and throat. Her hair all came out. Her husband spent hundreds of dollars without any benefit. She weighed but 78 pounds, and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says, "I became perfectly cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla."

HOOD'S PILLS should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, always preferred.

A CAUSE CELEBRE.

Judgment in the Potatoes and Milk Case Tried in the County Court.

Some Pertinent Remarks About the Evidence of Witnesses Who Are Parties to a Suit.

During the July sitting of the County Court the case of Nicholl vs. Lewtass created much amusement. It was a suit to recover the disputed portion of an account, the question being whether or not potatoes were worth $2 per bag or milk 40 cents per gallon. At the time judgment was reserved, the Chief Justice advising the litigants to bury the hatchet and come to an amicable settlement. Yesterday he delivered judgment, making some observations upon the not uncommon practice of litigants resting their case upon their own uncorroborated evidence. He said:

"I cannot undertake to weigh oaths against oaths in this case without much anxiety. There is this disadvantage. Since the admission of parties as competent witnesses, they really seem to be treated as the only competent witnesses, and suitors do not seem to think any other evidence necessary than their own evidence. But all the reasons formerly held good against their admissibility still continue in full force, and are as well founded in common sense as ever against their credibility, viz.: 1. Is the danger of temptation to perjury, which it is hoped is rare, but chiefly (2) because an interested party, however conscientious, rarely takes an impartial view of what has occurred."

"All men are naturally apt to put their own construction on it, and remember nothing but that construction. They are then of course ready to swear that the bargain was originally expressed in words clearly carrying that construction and no other. A judge, therefore, fully convinced of the bona fides of a plaintiff or defendant, often hesitates to give effect to his statements at least where they are at all complicated and especially where they are contradicted. Here I am under the full impression that all the witnesses would scorn to tell me a lie. But as a consequence of that, I am quite unable to come to any clear conclusion as to what the bargain really was, or whether there was any definite bargain as to price. The goods having been delivered and accepted, it is clear there must have been some bargain for sale and purchase, and then the law implies a bargain as to price, that is the market price. In the absence of special contract or what comes to the same thing, in the absence of satisfactory evidence of a special contract, I think from the evidence of Mr. Gosnell, who happened to be in court that the fair market price for seed potatoes was somewhat higher than defendant supposes, and not always so high as plaintiff asks. Mr. Gosnell says he has known them to be as high as $25 and $30 per ton, or even two cents per pound."

"Trying as well as I can to come to a fair conclusion, I allow 1½ cents per pound for the potatoes, that is $4 to plaintiff. As to the milk, I am quite without extraneous help. I suppose 35 cents will satisfy neither party and is therefore probably just."

SUPREME COURT.

Smith vs. Heath.—(Judgment)—In this case the appellant was convicted of soliciting orders for the supply of goods by retail, to be furnished by a firm outside the province, neither he nor they having any permanent place of business here, and without having taken out a license, contrary to the Municipalities Act of 1891, which forbids such retail transactions.

The defence is limited to this, that the sale solicited was not by retail, but wholesale. The goods are business cards, trade circulars. On the face of each card is printed a calendar for 1893. On one half of the back is printed a sprig of flowers or other ornamental device. The other half is left a blank space, upon which the name of the proposed trader may be printed. In the present instance the customer, a chemist and druggist, chose his patterns and ordered eleven hundred of different sizes. His intention is to distribute these at the close of the year as his own actual or potential customers, gratis, as an advertisement.

The prosecutor contends that a wholesale merchant is one who sells not to a consumer but to other tradesmen, goods in large quantities, with the intention that they shall be sold over again in smaller quantities, or even one at a time to consumers; that these cards were sold, it is true, to the chemist in sufficient quantity to justify the epithet "Wholesale," but that as the chemist did not resell by retail, nor at all, but distributed them gratis, he was really the consumer, and the first sale by the appellant to the chemist was a sale by retail.

There is no doubt that a merchant who sells as above in large quantities to another trader, in order that the second may distribute piecemeal to actual consumers, is a wholesale merchant. His intention is to distribute these, this, which is only an example of a class, exhausts the whole class. In fact a wholesale dealer may know nothing and certainly cares nothing, about the way in which his immediate customer deals with the goods. A liquor merchant with a wholesale license sells to a customer a cask of wine. The customer is a saloon keeper. This is all right. But if instead of selling any portion of it, the customer consumes it by inviting his friends to a series of dinners, the wholesale merchant would, on the prosecutor's theory, find himself liable to be fined for want of a retail license. A shipload of coal bought at Christmas direct from the colliery would generally be thought a wholesale transaction. And so it would be, according to this theory, if bought by a middle man for resale at a profit. But what would be a retail sale on the part of the English Government, to take over the colliery the purchaser distributed it among the poor gratis. Surely Schweppes buys his soda water bottles wholesale; yet he makes no special charge for them to the people who buy his soda water. It is needless to multiply examples. The act of vending must be of one nature, not of two natures; the same transaction cannot be a retail sale and a wholesale purchase. I shall not attempt to define wholesale. Quantity enters no doubt into the concept. But the only trade in which the quantity is defined is, I believe, the liquor trade; and there it is fixed at no enormous volume—two gallons. It certainly has nothing to do with the price which the first vendor subsequently obtains for the separate articles, nor with the mode in which he seeks repayment. Here, in fact, the chemist expects to get coupled for his outfit on the charge of 1,100 cards by the profits coming from the customers whom he hopes to attract by distributing them. He does, therefore, in fact, sell these cards singly, though they are, in form, distributed gratis; they are sold on credit; he hopes to be repaid, on the whole, though some distributors may disappoint him. In my opinion the sale effected by the appellant was wholesale, not retail, coming even within the prosecutor's own definition of goods sold in bulk, to be resold piecemeal; and I so find, and dismiss the complaint.

The conviction must be quashed.

THE TROUBLES IN UGANDA.

TO THE EDITOR.—Your leading article this morning on the Uganda trouble between Protestants and Catholics, is full of false statements and misrepresentations. The same may be said of articles on the same subject which have appeared in the other Victoria papers.

A British Columbia editor is easily excused for being ignorant of Uganda affairs, but his want of information should not betray him into a categorical justification of the ill-considered and violent action of Captain Lugard, which has compromised the entire British position in East Africa. Lord Salisbury, in his reply to the temperate speech of Lord Herries upon the massacres in Uganda, fully recognizes that there is a prima facie case against Captain Lugard. From the captain's own report, dated as far back as August 31, 1891, we gather that the main object of dispute between the parties turned on the possession of landed property, each alleging that estates had been unjustly transferred to those of the opposite camp. After the restoration of King Mwanga the two groups divided Uganda among themselves into two equal portions, apportioning all the districts between the two camps without any reference to the number of Protestants or Catholics who were in the country. However, this manifest injustice brought about no hostile action on the part of the Catholics; but an arrangement was come to by which no one was to be dispossessed for change of creed without an express order of the bura or council. The working of this stipulation proving hostile to the interests of the Protestant faction through defection from their ranks, they brought all their influence to bear on Captain Lugard to his support, as he himself tells us. After having stated that the majority were heathens, but called themselves Protestants or Catholics according to the religion of their chief, he says: "All these, it was alleged, would at once, unless restrained by the loss of their estates, go over to the religion of the King, namely, Roman Catholic. This would be a heavy blow to the Protestants, destroying their position as a political party, and preventing their admission into these estates for the purpose of propagating their creed. The Protestants urged this as did their missionaries." That is to say, finding moral arguments ineffective to stay the general movement towards Catholicism here acknowledged, they desired to penalize conversion to that faith by rendering it ground for forfeiture of property. This was, in effect, actually done by Captain Lugard, after this intended change of front had been sanctioned by the East Africa company's authorities on the coast. The temper of the Protestant faction may be judged from another incident recorded in the report, according to which, the king having been chosen as arbitrator in the dispute, they refused to abide by his decision when given against them, having previously agreed to be bound by it. We thus find in Captain Lugard's own statements full confirmation of some of those made by the other side.

From the time Mwanga had openly adhered to the Catholic faith, attending every week at the Rubaga mission, "the whole country was inclined to follow him, and the Protestants were greatly exasperated." They urged the English envoy to take violent measures, and "sides having been obtained and distributed from among their partisans, they opened fire on their adversaries. The latter succeeded in driving them back to the fort, but the fire of the English Maxim guns turned the scale against them. In the ensuing hostilities, these weapons played a leading part, and there is no doubt that Captain Lugard was morally responsible for the deplorable massacre that followed the retreat of his opponents. That he was a active participant in the bloodshed, his co-religionists are sufficiently shown by parleys held by him with the king on their behalf, in which his restoration was promised on condition that he would accept the company's flag, and substitute Protestantism for Catholicism in the great offices held by the latter. These terms he refused, and had retired to an island in the lake with the missionaries and thousands of his people, when they were attacked from fifteen boats, from which fire was opened on the helpless crowd by the English rifles and Maxim guns. A rush to the shore and hurried flight in whatever boats were available, followed, but even the fugitives were barbarously fired upon, while those left on the island were slaughtered or made prisoners. The latter fate befel the six priests left behind, Bishop Hirth having escaped with the king, leaving Uganda in flames. His churches, his houses, his harem of women and children, consigned to slavery by men of their own race, backed by the guns of Captain Lugard. I am happy to know that this gentleman was in no sense the agent or officer of the British Government. The last letters from Capt. Lugard to Mwanga threatened to surrender the country to a Mussulman potentate, which would be a worthy termination of his preaching of Protestantism at the cannon's mouth.

It is now admitted that the East Africa Company would have withdrawn from Uganda before now but for a sum of £25,000 placed at their disposal by the Church Missionary Society. Was money, collected for the propagation of the Gospel, spent in the purchase of Maxim guns for the better and safer slaughter of rival Christians? And do these £25,000 lend color to the suspicion that for some months past Captain Lugard has regarded the Protestant missionary societies as his real employers? As to the project of evacuation, it may be observed that Uganda is a rich and fertile region, but separated from the coast by a vast extent of barren and desolate tracts, and its occupation is obviously a task beyond the competence of a private company. Neither does it seem possible for the English Government to take over the protectorate of Uganda, and to make themselves responsible for the conduct of events in a region so remote as to be beyond the reach of effective control. Such a solution, however, would be the happiest for the country itself and for the missionaries established there, since Catholic interests have nothing to fear in any colony under the aegis of the British Government.

AND WHEREAS, under and by virtue of the foregoing recited Act, intitled the "Victoria and Sidney Railway Subsidy Act, 1892," provision is made in clause 2 thereof that in case, at any time, an agreement is entered into by the Company with the Corporation of the City of Victoria for the furnishing by the said Corporation of a guarantee of payment of interest to a further amount of two or more per centum, on the bonds of the Company, up to not more than $300,000, the Government may make such arrangements for permitting the said Corporation to share any security taken by them for advances hereunder, and such provisions as to the manner of holding the same as to them may seem fit.

AND WHEREAS the said Company was thereby empowered to charge its undertaking and its tolls and property, real and personal, with the payment of all the moneys paid by the Provincial Government in respect of the guarantee thereby authorized second and subject only to the charge given in favor of the bondholders under the Company's Act of Incorporation, and with further power to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council to enter into all agreements which might be necessary for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the said Act.

10. The said Company hereby agree to complete their said Railway on or before the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, and thereafter to continually maintain and operate the same so long as any of their said bonds shall remain unredeemed within the said period of twenty-five years.

11. Provided always that Chinese shall not be employed in the construction of the said railway, and provided also that in case a by-law to ratify this agreement on the part of the Corporation shall not be submitted within sixty days from the date hereof for the vote of the ratepayers, under section one hundred and eleven of the said Municipal Act, 1892, or if such by-law shall be submitted and shall be defeated at the polls, or shall not be carried, then, and in such case, this agreement, and everything herein contained, shall be void, and of no effect.

12. The Company shall not pay any dividends to any shareholder, or other person, so long as any moneys remain due or owing to the said Government, or the Corporation of the City of Victoria, in respect of the said guarantee.

13. The books of the Company shall be open to the inspection of any person authorized to inspect the same by either the said Government or the Corporation of the City of Victoria, at all times.

14. The Company shall operate and run over the said line of railway when constructed at least one train each way per diem (Sundays excepted) for the whole length of the railway.

KIDNAPPED.

Six Non-Union Sailors of the Schooner Robert Louis Captured at Night.

Kept Under Guard at Port Townsend and Shipped to Victoria, on Thursday Evening.

Consul Myers was visited yesterday by a party of six sailors, who told the following sensational story. It is given in the words of their spokesman, H. Sansom.

"Myself and five others," said he, "formed the crew of the schooner Robert Louis, lying at Port Gamble. We are not members of the Sailor's Union, which fact caused us to be in bad savor with the Union crews of the bark Bonanza, the schooner Norma and the barkentine Alitac, three San Francisco vessels that were lying close to us in the harbor. On Wednesday these vessels were visited by Agent Leighton of the Sailor's Union and a man named Martin, both of whom came over from Seattle in the steamer Elsie.

"These two men persuaded the union sailors, some 30 in number, to take us away from our vessel. We were visited on Wednesday night by a crowd of union men under Leighton. They came aboard and told us we were 'scabs' and could not work on any vessel on the Pacific Coast unless we joined the union. We were told to 'come along and make no fuss' or it would go hard with us. We were also told that if we went quietly we would be paid the amounts due us by the captain, and we given cards from the union which would take us down to San Francisco free of charge.

"There being so many of them and not knowing how we might be treated in case of refusal, we thought best to accompany them. We accordingly went on board the Elsie and were taken to Port Townsend. There we were marched under guard to the headquarters of the Sailors' Union, where we remained over the remainder of the night.

"In the morning we were taken out to a restaurant and given some breakfast. By this time the union men had persuaded us that the best thing to do was to keep quiet and do as we were told. They assured us that everyone in Port Townsend was in favor of the union and that an appeal for help would do no good. We were kept under watch until the North Pacific came along and then placed on board. Our fares were paid to Victoria, and we were given the following letter:

PORT TOWNSEND.

Mr. Tom Ellis:

FRIEND TOM.—The bearer of this note, and his companions, are the men about whom I wired you. They are men worthy of your very thoughtful consideration, not having given us the least trouble. I trust you will, upon their arrival, make them as comfortable as possible.

And oblige,

Tom Burns.

"This letter was addressed to Tom Ellis, Pacific hotel, Victoria. When we arrived here on the North Pacific Thursday night, we found no Tom Ellis, and being out of funds, would have passed the night on the street but for the kindness of a sailor who went good for a night's lodging for us."

This is the story told Consul Myers yesterday. The names of the men are, H. Sansom, R. Jones, M. Williamson, Edward Lerad, John Eikema and F. W. Wedin. Four of them claim to be recently from London, while Sansom showed his first papers declaratory of his intention to become an American citizen. Wedin has spent eleven years in the American navy.

The letter which the men carry is evidently a fraud, as no such man can be found. It is written in a clear business hand and is evidently the work of a man who has been engaged in some clerical pursuit and who is, moreover, well educated.

The Consul says the men are in appearance honest sailors, fairly well dressed, and have no appearance of being on the "beat." They say they are in a penniless condition, two of them having had breakfast yesterday and the others going without. They explain the fact of permitting themselves to be handled in such a manner by saying that they were strangers in this section, and were told that every one was in favor of the Union and that any attempt to ask for assistance would only lead to their being taken to the police station, where they would be unable to get back while the quarantine lasted, and so would not be able to give them any immediate trouble. The captain of the Robert Louis, in the meantime, will, of course, be compelled to ship a union crew.

There is no provision in the consular regulations whereby the men can receive any help from the local American consulate, but the authorities on the other side will be notified at once, and probably some immediate steps will be taken in the matter. This is the second kidnapping which the Sailors' Union has had in during the past month, and the public are beginning to wonder when the thing will be stopped.

His Honor looked very grave yesterday when the docket was laid before him. The first case was that of John Farrell, charged with being found drunk. In this case a fine of $5 was imposed, and an eight days alternative given in case of default.

A similar fate overtook Richard Sauer, also charged with being found drunk and incapable.

Wm. Keeler was then heard on a charge of assaulting his wife. The evidence went to show that he had kicked her several times and then knocked her down. The testimony also proved that the family were a nuisance to the entire neighborhood. For the assault Keeler was given a $10 fine or one month at hard labor. On a second charge of using grossly insulting language, Keeler was fined another $10 or one month's imprisonment with hard labor, the second sentence to begin at the time of expiration of the first. So that Mr. Keeler will cease from troubling anyone for two months at least.

The charge of assault preferred against a man named Martin was dismissed, as was an alleged infraction of the Thistle by-law laid against a property owner.

The case of Low Chow, for aggravated assault, was remanded until Monday.

DECLARATORY AND AMENDING HEALTH RULES, 1892.

THEODORE DAVIE, WHEREAS by Order in Council dated 11th day of July, A.D. 1892, and by Order in Council dated 14th day of July, 1892, His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor was pleased, by virtue of and acting under the "Health Act," to issue certain Rules and Regulations which are styled respectively the "Provincial Health Rules, 1892," and the "Supplementary Provincial Health Regulations, 1892."

And whereas there may be doubts as to the true construction and intent of the said Rules and Regulations as to the matters hereinafter referred to, and it is expedient to declare the true construction and intent of the said Rules and Regulations as to the said matters:

And whereas expense has been and will be incurred by virtue of the appointment of a Municipal Health Officer for the City of Victoria under the said Regulations, which expense should be met and defrayed by the Corporation of the said City:

And whereas it was and will be necessary to provide proper hospital accommodations for persons found within the City of Victoria afflicted with smallpox, including the services of physicians, nurses, attendants and servants, and including food, bedding, clothing, medicines and other necessities, as well as to provide proper places and tents for the reception and isolation of persons exposed to contagion, and generally to employ physicians, officers, men and servants, and to provide food, clothing, bedding, medicines and other necessities to secure the due enforcement and carrying out of the said Rules and Regulations, as well as the provisions of the Consolidated Health By-Law, 1886, of the said Corporation, relating to contagious and infectious diseases:

And whereas the said Corporation ought to meet and defray all the expenses hereinafter mentioned:

And whereas the Municipal authorities of the said City are apparently unable or unwilling to make provision for and defray the said expenses, and it is expedient for the Province to make such provision for the time being:

Therefore His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, by and with the advice of His Executive Council, has been pleased to order and declare, and it is hereby ordered and declared, as follows:

1. It shall and may be lawful for the Minister of Finance of the Province of British Columbia from time to time to advance in the first instance, out of the Consolidated Revenue of the Province, the sums requisite to meet and defray all salaries, wages, costs or expenses whatsoever incurred, or to be incurred, in connection with the treatment and suppression of smallpox within the said City of Victoria, and under the said Rules and Regulations, and under the Consolidated Health By-Law, 1886, upon Warrants from time to time duly certified by the Provincial Health Officer, or by the Municipal Health Officer for the said City, appointed under the said Regulations and approved by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor.

2. The said sums shall be a debt due from the said City of Victoria to Her Majesty, and shall form a charge until fully paid and satisfied upon all the revenues of the said City from what ever source arising.

3. On the third Monday in each month, commencing with the month of August, 1892, or on such other days as shall from time to time be designated by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, a statement showing the amount so paid out of the consolidated revenue, up to and inclusive of the date of such statement, shall be made up and signed in duplicate by the Provincial Auditor, and shall be countersigned by the Minister of Finance; one of such statements shall be mailed at Victoria in a prepaid registered letter addressed to the Mayor of said city.

4. If, within fourteen days from the day of the mailing of such letter, the said City shall not pay into the Provincial Treasury at Victoria the full amount shown by such statement to have been paid, the other of such statements shall be delivered to the Sheriff for the County of Victoria.

5. The said Sheriff shall then proceed to levy execution against the said City for the said amount, in the same manner as if the statement had been a writ of fieri facias upon a judgment of the Supreme Court obtained against the said City, and in the event of his being unable to make the said amount, he shall have full power and authority, in his own name, to sue for, receive and recover any moneys due to the said City, including taxes on real property and license fees, and payment in respect of any such moneys, taxes, or license fees, to any action or process brought or taken for the recovery thereof by or on behalf of the said City against the persons paying the same and such Sheriff shall be, for the purposes of these Rules, and for the collection of moneys due thereunder, a Receiver of all the revenues of the said City, from whatever source arising, and he shall also have the powers and authorities conferred by sections 305 to 310, both inclusive, of the "Municipal Act, 1892," and the Sheriff shall hold the moneys to be recovered or received by him upon trust, in the first place, to pay or retain the costs of levying, recovering, and collecting the same; next in payment in to the Provincial Treasury of the amount so paid out of the consolidated revenue, and the remainder (if any) shall be paid to the said City.

6. Where there is any ambiguity or uncertainty in any of the said Rules or Regulations as to any offence defined, or purporting to be defined, or as to any penalty or punishment imposed, or purporting to be imposed, it shall be and be deemed to have been lawful for the Court making a conviction to convict and adjudicate under section 39 of the said Rules.

7. No conviction, order, or other proceeding, matter or thing made, done, or transacted in or relating to the execution of the said Rules and Regulations, or of these Rules, shall be vacated, quashed, or set aside for want of form, or be removed or removable by certiorari or other writ or process whatsoever into the Supreme Court, and no appeal shall lie in any case from any conviction to any Court by any process whatsoever unless the consent in writing of the Attorney-General thereto shall have been first had and obtained.

8. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary appearing in the said Rules and Regulations the maximum term of imprisonment for any infraction of, or neglect of, or disobedience to, the said Rules and Regulations that shall be awarded by any Court shall be the term of three months and no more.

9. Notwithstanding anything in the said Rules and Regulations appearing to the contrary, and subject to the next preceding rule, all penalties, whether by way of fine, imprisonment, or otherwise named therein shall be deemed to be the maximum penalties in respect of the offences for which they are respectively imposed, and it shall be lawful for the Court making any conviction under the said Rules and Regulations, having regard to the circumstances of the offence, to award any less penalty than the maximum.

10. These Rules may be cited as the "Declaratory and Amending Health Rules, 1892."

By Command,

A. CAMPBELL REDDIE, Deputy Provincial Secretary.

NOTES.

The team to represent the province at the forthcoming prize meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association at Ottawa, will be selected by the council from efficient members of the active militia of the district making the highest aggregate scores in the competition just closed; but no competitor will be selected who scores a less average than 3.25 per shot.

Senator Melnis made a speech at the close of the meeting, expressing his pleasure at having been able to attend, complimenting the managers on the efficient manner in which the matches were conducted, and hoping to meet the same riflemen in friendly competition next year. (Prolonged cheers.)
The result of the extra series matches cannot be known till to-day.

A comparison of the matches shows the following results, as between Victoria and New Westminster:
First prizes—Victoria 7, Westminster 5.
Prizes in money—Victoria $211.55, Westminster $189.
Laurie Bugle—Victoria.
Medals and badges—Victoria 5, Westminster 1.
Cups—Victoria 3, Westminster 1.

A photograph was taken of the council at the close of the meeting.

The telephones were put out of order by the rains, and the trumpet was despatched to the butts to decide on challenge shots.

THE OAR.

Hard work and plenty of it, is the order of the day with the James Bay Athletic Association. The intense among the various crews is increasing daily, as the date of the coming regatta approaches. The crews have improved wonderfully in the past week, and everything is very promising for close and exciting races. Sullivan's crew is regarded as a safe winner, owing to the presence of Sullivan and Widdowson, but knowing ones say, "wait and be surprised."

The juniors are training hard, and feeling confident of making good time. The single scull events will be interesting, as also the canoe races, both pacing and sailing. Almost every member of the club will be "in it" in some way, and the day will no doubt be one long to be remembered by lovers of sport.

LACROSSE.

THE GAME OF THE DAY.

The Vancouver lacrosse team have engaged the special steamer Comox, which will bring them here, this morning, for the great contest at Caledonia Park this afternoon. Music will be on the grounds half an hour before the game opens; Mr. A. B. McKenzie will act as referee, and the ball will be faced at 3 o'clock sharp. The twelve are expected to line up as below:

THE WHEEL.

POTTER TO THE FRONT.

By defeating J. Laurenceson, one of the foremost gentlemen athletes in British Columbia, upon an equal footing, H. E. Potter, of Vancouver, has proved himself a cyclist who will bear watching. He and Laurenceson had come together several times before, but always in handicap races, with the advantage on Potter's side, and so the tests of their comparative ability were scarcely satisfactory. The programme of sports for Vancouver's Labor Day celebration, however, contained a five mile race, solid tires, open, and for this event both Potter and Laurenceson entered. The contest was a keen one, and Potter won: time, 17:55. The track, wind or something else must have been against high speed, for the time is inferior to that previously made by the loser.

The results of the various bicycle races of the day are best below:

Two mile, best-and-best wheels—1. H. E. Potter (scratch); 2. John Hood (300 yards). Time—6:35.
One mile, solid tires—1. J. Laurenceson (scratch); 2. J. Pugh (125 yards). Time—3:08.
One mile, cushion tires—1. Charles Mith (75 yards); 2. George Emanuel (125 yards). Time—3:08.
Five mile, solid tires—1. H. E. Potter; 2. J. Laurenceson. Time—17:55.

MATCHED FOR THREE MILES.

A race for three miles, best and best wheels to take place at the Driving Park in connection with the next handicap meeting of the Wanderers, has been made between Fred. Holden and H. Tiedemann. The former is a new rider in Victoria, but an old war horse of the eastern track; Tiedemann's record is purely British Columbian and well known to all. Both men are entering vigorous training.

SPRINTING.

WATSON WEST WELL.

At the Labor Day races in Vancouver on Thursday, Tom Watson, of this city, succeeded in capturing all the best races—in fact all for which a professional was eligible. The winners of the day were:
One mile, professional—1. T. Watson; 2. H. Reave. Time—6:52.
Quarter mile, professional—1. T. Watson; 2. H. Reave. Time—6:55.
One hundred yards, amateur—1. H. McGregor; 2. H. Whitney. Time—11:15.
One mile, amateur—1. J. Boacher; 2. C. Stewart. Time—5:30.

ATHLETICS.

A PROMISING PROGRAMME.

The Victoria Athletic Club has arranged for an outing and field day combined, on August 21. The members of the club and their friends will proceed by bus and private rigs to Langford Plains, where the day will be spent in various athletic sports. Music and refreshments will be provided, and there is no doubt but that all will put in a most enjoyable time. The following programme has been arranged for the day:

Baseball Match—V.A.C. vs. All-Comers.
Football Match—Picked Fifteens.
Outside Race.
150 Yd. Race.
Quoit Match.
Smoke Race—100 yards—cigars.
Three-legged Race.
100 Yd. Race.
Hop, step and Jump.
Running High Jump.
Running Broad Jump.
Pat Man's Race.
Bun Race.

QUITS.

A match for $50 a side between well known local quitters will be played at the grounds of the Clover Point Quits Club this afternoon, when there will no doubt be many spectators on hand to see the fun.

THE RING.

COMING EVENTS.

The three fights to be decided in New Orleans during the week commencing September 5, whatever may be the results and whoever the winners, will afford but very little satisfaction towards settling the championships of the different classes. On Monday, September 5, Jack McAuliffe will meet Billy Myer, the Streator Cyclone. McAuliffe holds the lightweight championship of America, but his last drawn battle with Myer himself, and his virtual defeat by Jim Carney, then the lightweight champion of England, would not leave to his conqueror the title of the world's champion. On Tuesday, George Dixon, the colored featherweight, will meet Jack Skelly. The latter may be a phenomenal fighter just springing into prominence, but inasmuch as he is a makeshift opponent for Dixon, brought forward at the last moment by the management of the Olympic Club to fill a hiatus in their programme, he is more probably an aspiring gladiator who expects to gain more "kudos" by making a fairly good showing against the colored wonder than he would by defeating some lesser light. John L. Sullivan, on Wednesday, September 7, will meet James J. Corbett, late sparring assistant to one Jim Daly, and by the time that the big fellow is through with him Mr. Corbett will wish that he had continued on his sparring tour. Any time that the ex-amateur from California puts on the mittens with a fairly high-class exponent of the manly art, his wonderful good fortune in making a draw with Peter Jackson will become more and more apparent. It is really very touching to read Mr. Sullivan's latest declaration, that after he has decisively thrashed Pompadour Jim he, John L., will resign to Corbett the championship belt. The idea of resigning the belt to a beaten man, if not absolutely without precedent is extremely ludicrous. Taken altogether the Olympic Club of New Orleans will afford to their patrons a good three days' amusement, but the one fight which will excite more interest in the sporting world proper than all three above enumerated will be the one to follow. On the 22d of the month, at the Bolingbroke club, London, Eng., Jim Hall, of Australia, will meet Ted Pritchard, the middle weight champion of England, for a $5,000 purse and a side bet of $5,000 more. The winner will most certainly be matched against Robert Fitzsimmons, whose late victories over Jack Dempsey and Peter Maher have made him, in the eyes of American sportsmen, invincible in his class. Should Hall defeat Pritchard, Fitzsimmons can find no excuse to evade a meeting with him, and should Pritchard win, Fitzsimmons is the only man in the pugilistic world with whom he can hope to arrange a match. Special descriptions of these fights, round by round, will be received here, so the local sports will have quite a plethora of excitement during race week. What little betting, so far, has been chiefly on the Myer-McAuliffe battle, there seeming to be a general opinion that Dixon and Sullivan have an easy task before them.

IN FOUR SHORT ROUNDS.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The fight between light weights Tommy Easton, of Leytonstone, and George Strong, of Dover, better known as the "Cyclone" took place to-night. The fight was short and sharp, Easton knocking Strong out in four rounds.

TENNIS.

WESTMINSTER'S TOURNAMENT.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 14. (Special).—The first match in the Westminster Tennis club tournament was played yesterday, Messrs. Heathcote and Innes opening the ball. Mr. Heathcote won in 6-3, 6-5, 6-4.

YACHTING.

A CHARGE OF LUCK.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—In the handicap yacht race around the Isle of Wight, to-day, for the Commodore's Cup, the Meteor came in winner, the Queen Mary second, and the Iverna third.

HERE AND THERE.

What is an amateur? The Canadian Association of Amateur Athletes defines the mysterious word in this way: "An amateur is one who has never competed for a money prize or stated bet, or with or against any professional for any prize, or who has never taught, pursued or assisted in the practice of athletic exercises as a means of obtaining a livelihood." And yet this definition, complete as it appears, does not effectually cover the ground. On the one hand, an amateur in the best and true sense of the word, such as Oarsman G. A. Richardson, of this city, because, in early days, he has roved for some paltry money prize, before the line between amateurism and professionalism was as tightly drawn as now, should not be expelled or forced to wait a century for re-instatement. But, contra, there now appears to be a necessity, in this western province, for a middle class—"promoters" they are called in certain sections of the East.

To this grade Potter, the Vancouver cyclist, if report speaks truly, should be transferred. He is a capital man and fast; and he does not race for money prizes or against professionals. But his occupation is training for his races, and he and two friends practically are his managers, accompanying him wherever races are to be won, and raking in the shekels as they go. Nothing in sporting law can say Potter is other than an amateur, yet "really-truly" amateurs are handicapped in the contest every time they are pitted against him.

Nanairo dispatches of last evening state that the programme for the opening of the Northfield Athletic grounds to-day is a very promising one. Football, baseball and other matches are on the list.

UPON WHAT SHALL WE FEED BABY?

Let the little darling be fed upon the breast if the mother is able to satisfy his wants with pure and wholesome nutrition. Breast milk is nature's food, but owing to various circumstances it is often unsafe to allow the infant to use it. Wean him as he grows, wisdom points directly to Lactated Food as the nearest approach to pure and life-giving breast milk. Lactated Food possesses all the elements necessary for infantile growth and expansion. It is a preventive of cholera, infantum, diarrhoea and dysentery. It enables the infant to retain his milk and thus the dear mother is relieved of all anxiety and worry. Mothers, Lactated Food is a boon to every home where a baby claims care and attention.
